Kindergarten teacher Maraylene Welch and teacher John Fitzgerald welcome the students as they arrive at the front door of the former IGA store on Minden's Main Street. The store has undergone a major conversion, from retail outlet to five classrooms, to help meet the need for additional space at Archie Stouffer Elementary School.

Hospital services under study by local committee

A committee to examine services at the Minden hospital has been organized. Under the chairmanship of trustee Bill Kulas, the group was formed after a number of requests were made to define the future role of the hospital serving the community. Those requests had come from the municipal council, a number of service organizations, and the general public.

The first meeting of the committee was held Wednesday evening at Hyland Crest. During the meeting, committee members discussed the terms of reference for the study, as proposed by the St. Joseph's Hospital Board of Trustees. Both Minden and Haliburton hospitals are managed through the governing body of the Peterborough hospital.

While the terms of reference have yet to be formally adopted, the committee will be examining the needs of the population currently served by the hospital, the services now being offered at the facility and the anticipated requirements of the area population, with particular attention to the growing number of senior citizens residing in the area. The committee will also examine the state of the present structure and its future requirements. It is anticipated that a consulting firm will be hired to carry out the detailed examinations.

Minden trustee on the St. Joseph's Board, Bill Kulas, will be chairing this ad hoc committee of the board. Three members of the St. Joseph's administrative staff are on the committee, including executive director Leo Doiron, assistant to the administrator, Kevin Cummings and Minden Hospital nurse administrator Jean Anderson. The doctors serving the Minden community have been invited to be a part of the committee. Also serving on the committee will be Anson, Hindon and Minden Deputy Reeve Bern Berry, Mabel Branigan, Jack Brezina, Andy Campbell, Judy Davis, Clayton Hummell, Rob Luke, Gord Monk and Dwight Morley. A representative of the Ministry of Community and Social Services has asked to be included in the committee as well. The ministry was preparing to undertake a study of needs in this area and it was felt there could be some savings involved if the studies were combined.

The committee plans to meet on a monthly basis until the report is completed. At that time the recommendations will be submitted to the hospital's board of trustees for consideration.

United Way extended to this County

For the first time ever, the United Way of Victoria County is extending its fundraising drive into Haliburton County, where a majority of the agencies have been operating for years.

The United Way is the fundraising body for 12 non-profit groups. According to Barb St. Thomas from the United Way office in Lindsay, nine of those agencies provide services in Haliburton.

The goal for this year's fundraising drive is $250,000 and the campaign begins on September 14. The majority of that money will be generated in Victoria County, where a variety of events are scheduled. Fundraising in Haliburton County will be low key this year. St. Thomas says they have received permission to send out mailers inviting people to make donation, and these were to be in the mail last Friday.

Originally, the organization was called the United Way of Lindsay. However, it was felt that the services provided were of benefit to all of Victoria County. Thus, the name was changed to the United Way of Victoria County. The organization is now unofficially calling itself the United Way of Victoria - Haliburton.

St. Thomas said this year's campaign chairman, Dom Fox, attended the last interagency council meeting in Haliburton, where the idea of expanding the fundraising drive into Haliburton was met with a positive response.

St. Thomas says the only reason it has not reached out to Haliburton before was because they were trying to convince Victoria County residents who live outside of Lindsay that it is not only Lindsay that benefits from the work of the agencies.

Conflicts could block bylaw

Passage of the comprehensive zoning bylaw for Anson, Hindon and Minden Townships has been put on the back burner until it can be determined if four members of council have a conflict in regards to the flood plain zoning.

At a special meeting held last Thursday afternoon, Reeve Sinc Nesbitt, and councillors Verne Graham, Bob Sisson and Royce Miller all indicated that they may have a conflicting interest in this matter. Since a bylaw can not be approved with only one council member voting, it was decided that application should be made to a judge to determine if the other council members do, in fact, have conflicting interests.

Nesbitt, Graham and Miller all own property that lies in the area which would be designated as flood zone if the bylaw is passed. Sisson works for a business, which could potentially gain or lose depending on the decision.

Townships Clerk Mary Mysyk says council members wish to be cautious in dealing with this matter. Because of the controversy the flood plain zoning has created in the past, they are making sure everything is done by the book.

Road super graduates

Anson, Hindon and Minden Roads Superintendent Clayton Cameron was presented with a certificate from the Ontario Good Roads Association during a council meeting last Thursday. The certificate recognizes his successful completion of the T.J. Mahoney Road School.

Lake levels

The decline of the Haliburton lakes again averaged near five per cent with 46.2 per cent remaining by Monday, August 29. This occurred due partly to a moderately high outflow for half the week, and generally dry conditions despite some locally heavy rains. In 1987 the levels averaged only about 44.5 per cent by this date.

The Kawartha Lakes have generally been holding, though Balsam Lake has declined some due to the low flow of the Gull River. These lakes have suffered more decline than in 1987 generally due to August rains this year totalling only about half of the total recorded for August 1987 at Peterborough.

Agency will canvass county

The agencies that receive funding from the United Way are: The John Howard Society, Big Brothers and Sisters; Lifeline Telecare; St. John Ambulances in Lindsay and Fenelon Falls; the Red Cross Society; the Arthritis Society; Family Resources; the Lindsay Boys and Girls Club; the Canadian National Institute for the Blind; and the YMCA.

According to St. Thomas, the Haliburton office of the John Howard Society benefits from funding from the United Way. There are a number of Haliburton County residents on the waiting list for big brothers or sisters. Lifeline Telecare provides a listening ear to people in distress. The YMCA is planning to establish programs in Minden beginning this year. The Fenelon Falls branch of St. John Ambulance is available for use in Haliburton. Family Resources brings its van and resource material to agencies in Haliburton on a regular basis.

Other agencies that receive United Way funding that serve Haliburton are the Red Cross, the Arthritis Society and the CNIB, said St. Thomas.

The $250,000 goal for this year is an ambitious one, said St. Thomas. But for the past few years their targets have been met. And with the expansion of the drive into Haliburton, they are hoping to meet their goal again this year.

If anyone is interested in helping out with the campaign in Haliburton, they are encouraged to contact Barb St. Thomas at 324-3231.

Haliburton County is not well known for its fertile soils, but every once in a while area gardeners receive surprising results when they harvest their vegetables.

George Hewitt of Minden collected three huge tomatoes from his garden this year. Each one weighed in at a pound and a half. Hewitt says he has grown tomatoes in his garden for years and never had any reach this size. This year he planted "Beefsteak" tomatoes and they produced the giants.

Proving the need

A small group of Minden and area residents are to be congratulated for signing on to a committee that will very likely push their patience to the limit over the next few years as they work toward the much-needed end of establishing a new hospital in the village.

Justifiably worried that Minden could lose its hospital altogether in the not-too-distant future, individuals, with the help of the administration and board members at St. Joseph's Hospital, began investigating ways of preventing this. Since hospitals are government funded, there is need for a study to first prove that there is, in fact, a need for a facility here.

This is where the committee comes in. They will be initiating the study that will take about two years to complete. Once this is done, we can be sure that a second and maybe a third study will be required. At some point, though, all the studies will be done and there will be no alternative. Minden will get its hospital.

The committee's first meeting was held last week, and members plan to meet on a monthly basis until the report is completed. This is the start of what we hope will produce a facility that will serve the area for as long as the present hospital has. And those who are now serving on the committee will be able to look at the hospital with the satisfaction of knowing they have helped contribute this facility to the community.

Love is not all it's cracked up to be

Love is a grave mental disease.

Plato

Her name was Jackie Taylor and it was love at first sight.

She had jet black hair and eyes of cobalt blue and a quick crinkly way of laughing that set off depth charges in my thoracic cavity. I only had to see her once across a classroom to know that I was in love with her and would be in love with her until the day I died. All the dopey clichés applied - I really would climb any mountain, ford any stream - or burst my throbbing lovestruck heart in the attempt. I knew with one glance that my existence had come to a crossroads: either Jackie Taylor became my lifelong companion, or I would fling myself under the next passing freight train.

I knew all these things with the conviction of a born-again PTL Clubber who's just mortgaged the Winnebago and sent the cash to Jim and Tammy. I've never been more certain of anything. But there was one minor complication.

To Jackie Taylor, I was about as attractive as a dose of Athlete's Foot.

She didn't know I existed - or if she did, she didn't care. I was crushed. My heart was body slammed into quivering paste. I probably would have thrown myself under a freight train except the railyard was at the other end of town and my mother wouldn't let me go on the bus by myself.

My great love affair with Jackie Taylor began and ended in Grade Five.

black 'n white

by Arthur Black

It was painful and humiliating, but it was a useful introduction to the power of love - even puppy love. I was reminded of it when I read a small story in the paper about Robert Kielling recently. You know him? Mister Keiling is a bachelor farmer who works a quarter section near Blumenhof, Saskatchewan.

When he's not in jail, that is. Mister Kielling goes to jail a lot. He goes to jail for love. The love of Anne Murray. Robert Kielling thinks - no, he knows - that Canada's most famous singer/songwriter is secretly in love with him. Knew it from that day he was out on the tractor and he looked up and saw The Snowbirds, Canada's crack jet squadron streaking across the Saskatchewan sky. Obviously this was a message from Anne to him, don't you see? Just like all the messages she kept putting in her songs - he bought every record she ever put out. Ten years ago it became very clear to Robert Kielling that Anne Murray was trying desperately to contact him, so he did the decent thing. He gave her a call. Then he wrote to her. Then he called again and wrote some more. At first he received the standard form replies that most stars send to their fans, but the people around Anne Murray soon realized that Robert Kielling was no ordinary fan. He wanted more. He wanted Anne to go out with him, to come to his farm. To marry him. They stopped replying to his letters, cards and telegrams.

Robert Kielling's devotion didn't flicker for an instant. He knew that Evil Forces were trying to come between him and Anne, so he tried all the harder. So hard that since 1980 he's been convicted on 11 separate occasions of harassing Anne Murray. He's paid several fines and he's gone to jail for stretches ranging from 30 days to six months.

Robert Kielling's lawyer was in court last week applying for bail for his client. He needed to get out and harvest his grain crop, the lawyer said. The judge looked at the dossier, noted that between January and July of this year, Kielling had telephoned Murray's office 263 times. No, the judge said, Mister Kielling won't be free to harvest grain or make phone calls for a little while yet. Request denied.

Strange story. Horrific, if you look at it through Anne Murray's eyes. Kind of perversely impressive if you see it from the vantage point of Kielling's tractor seat. He's just doing what Hollywood hokum and Harlequin Romances and all those soppy pop songs recommend - swearing eternal devotion. It's just that Robert Kielling does it in spades.

And Jackie Taylor if you're reading this, I want you to know that all is forgiven.

(I think her last name was Taylor...)

Fundraising successes benefit the Home

Editor:

Recently we have had two extremely successful fund raising/volunteer events take place, I would appreciate it if you could insert this article in your editorial page for the next edition of The Times.

The Kawartha Dairy

Dance and fund raiser for the Hyland Crest Bus Fund was a tremendous success. The event would never have taken place without the volunteers and staff of Kawartha Dairy, and the many other people too numerous to mention, who pitched in and made the night a success. Special thanks go to the various members of the two bands providing the entertainment, and to all those who worked tirelessly to make this event the success it was.

Just this past week, we had a group of people out soliciting advertising for the Hyland Crest Cookbook. Many thanks goes out to all those merchants who participated in the cookbook fund by purchasing advertising space, and a special thanks goes out to all those people volunteering their time to go out and do the door to door work, which will ultimately make this event another successful Hyland Crest endeavor.

The cookbooks will be available sometime around Christmas, and we hope the funds generated will provide a huge boost to the Hyland Crest Bus Fund.

Thanks, on behalf of the Committee of Management, and the Residents and Staff of Hyland Crest to all those volunteers who donated their time toward a worthy cause.

Administrator,

Some concerns

Editor:

As a psychiatrist with a quarter century of experience and ten years in resort country, I've had ample opportunity to form an opinion of local social and professional services. Generally speaking Haliburton County enjoys good services although obviously it could do with a truly effective community mental health service.

Generally speaking I believe that Haliburton agencies are doing a good job but I'm concerned about your Home Support Services which seems to have lost sight of its goals. My concerns about this were expressed to Home Support Director, Donna Bailey and her Board in letters of April 21 and June 23, 1988, which received a most unsatisfactory reply.

I remember the days when Home Support provided excellent volunteer services to Haliburton's poor and was particularly struck by one household benefitting from its assistance. The woman was confined to a wheelchair but able to supply her men with lovely microwave meals provided through Home Support.

As time went by I was led to understand that the "volunteers" were being paid for their services and Home Support was unofficially becoming an employment agency for "paid volunteers". Perhaps this agency does untold good for Haliburton residents and my concerns are not shared by others. I would be very grateful if people would either write my Bracebridge office or telephone my Minden answering service if they have good or bad things to say about this agency.

Ironically Home Support was doing the very thing that made the Cape Cod, Massachusetts, Community Mental Health Service successful for a decade. I find it hard to be criticizing an agency with such a worthy mandate.

Thanks for the reports

On behalf of Haliburton Heritage Walks, I wish to thank Susan Wilson for regular coverage of the walks in "Coming up this week".

Our organization noted an increased participation in the programme by readers of "This Week". Full of interesting and informative material, the supplement to The Times has become very popular with residents of this area, but especially with summer visitors. Those of us who are trying to promote tourism through volunteer efforts, have been greatly encouraged and helped by the publicity which we received from you. Please keep up the good work!

Vandals, thieves must be stopped

Editor:

It is most annoying when people work hard to improve their property only to have any improvements either stolen or vandalized. This past summer has been most annoying and the pay-off came after installing new coach lamps on the front of the Funeral Home only to have them stolen within two days of installation.

Vandalism, theft and unnecessary noise have been rampant in the area this year. We know that there is a definite shortage of staff on the Police Force and Mr. Peterson and company certainly are not willing to do anything about it. I do feel our local detachment deserves a lot of credit for the way they cope under very adverse circumstances.

The local Council has done little to help alleviate the situation. Since the inception of the BIA many years ago, we have requested improved street lighting in the business core which would ultimately discourage the criminal element. It has been suggested that a patrol officer be hired to assist in night patrol during the summer months (such as Haliburton Village does) but nothing has happened. A responsible patrol officer would certainly reduce the incidence of tire squealing, 1:00 a.m. foul-mouthed disturbances and vandalism by some of the mentally deficient characters we have collected around the town. This would greatly assist the Police and free them up to pursue their efforts in crime prevention and law enforcement. It is to be hoped that the members of our Council are interested in positive steps, and not akin to the Peterson Government - no money for school additions, adequate policing, health care improvements, hospital additions etc. where the priorities seem to be the assinine projects like creating flood plains and blow the taxpayers dollars on something that may never occur.

Many may say that our problems are people from the local camps or tourists, and granted, there are a few that cause problems. There are also some residents of the area who are as much or more of a problem. Some drift in from the metropolitan areas. These low-life types seem to enjoy a very good standard of living and have a pretty good criminal record to boot. Every community has its low-life types. Hopefully through awareness and surveillance, the influx of said types can be discouraged.

The time has come to demand action so that our property is safe and the rights of others respected and community pride maintained.

Four months for assault charge

Leslie McKnight was sentenced to four months in jail, when he appeared in County Court in Lindsay, Tuesday. The Minden man was charged with sexual assault involving a minor. The incident took place last year in Minden.

McKnight had been held in custody since late July when he appeared in court after failing to attend at a pre-sentence hearing. The Judge, L. Wood, said he took into consideration the time the man had spent in jail when imposing the four month sentence.

In addition to the jail term, McKnight was placed on three years probation. Among the provisions of the probation was the requirement that the man not be in the company of children.

During the period of August 29 to September 5, personnel at the Minden OPP Detachment investigated 27 motor vehicle accidents with 13 persons injured, and 76 general occurrences including nine thefts and four break and enters.

Drug arrests

During the Labour Day Weekend, members of Minden Detachment and drug enforcement officers from Peterborough OPP District Headquarters executed two search warrants in the Haliburton area. As a result, drugs were seized and eight persons were arrested. A total of 13 drug related charges were laid. Drugs seized included cocaine, marijuana and hashish.

The following persons were charged: Shawn Anthony Wilkinson, age 22, of Haliburton, two counts of trafficking in a narcotic, one count of possession, one count breach of probation;

Ronnie James Clement, age 19, of Haliburton, three counts of trafficking in a narcotic; Steven Bradley Mann, of Minden, one count of possession of a narcotic; Martin Patrick Powers, Georgetown, one count of possession; and Michelle Karen Lemay, one count of possession of narcotic.

Accident

On Thursday, September 1 at 9:35 a.m. on the Harburn Road one km north of Haliburton, two pick-up trucks collided on a curve.

Joe Don Perrin, 52, of Dysart Twp. swerved his GM truck to miss an animal. An oncoming '86 GMC, driven by Helen Cardinell, 57, of Dudley Twp. attempted to move to the right to avoid Perrin but was struck by his truck.

Cardinell and her two passengers were treated at Haliburton Hospital. Perrin has been charged with failing to share the roadway. Constable Ben Manuge is investigating.

Crawford captures bass title

If you want to learn how to land your share of the fish swimming about in Haliburton County lakes, Rocky Crawford is the man to see.

Crawford, a former Minden resident, recently won $60,000 in cash and prizes for finishing first in the OV Pro-bass Classic, the most prestigious fishing event in Canada.

Mark Mandic, president of the pro-bass association, says winning this tournament is a tremendous accomplishment for any angler. In the final weekend of the tournament, Crawford had to beat out 42 top anglers to take the honours and the top prize. His prizes included a Chevy S10 Blazer supplied by General Motor, Ranger bass boat, a Mariner outboard motor and $5,000 in cash.

Although Crawford now lives in Ajax, he often visits this area and is continually promoting fishing and hunting in the Highlands through his writing for Outdoor Canada magazine. He is a member of the Shimano Pro Team and has given fishing seminars in this area.

The Pro-bass Classic is much more involved than most fishing derbies. Anglers fish in teams for five weekends, when they are allowed to keep six bass each day. It is the combined weight of their total catches that earn them points.

Those first five weekends are the qualifying events. Only the 42 best anglers advance to the final weekend of the tournament. Crawford has qualified for the final weekend for three years in a row now, but this was the first time he finished ahead of the pack.

The final weekend is three full days of fishing in Georgian Bay near Midland. After the second day of the tournament, Crawford was slightly behind the leader in second place. However, a good day of fishing on the final day of the tournament put him into first place. In all, Crawford weighed in 18 bass for a combined total of 42.95 pounds. His catch was a full three pounds more than the next closest angler.

In addition to his prizes, Crawford will be receiving a letter of congratulations from the municipality.

Nursery play ready for opening

The Minden Nursery Play is getting ready for another year of pre-school and registration day is scheduled for September 21 at 8 p.m. at St. Paul's Anglican Church.

Minden Nursery Play provides a sufficiently equipped environment for a relaxed but busy atmosphere where pre-school children ages 3 to 5 can learn to socialize harmoniously. It provides activities for them to express themselves imaginatively, develop co-ordination and learn the skills of sharing and inter-play with others. It allows the child to become independent from his environment by learning to be with other friendly, helpful adults.

Minden Nursery Play is not a school as it is not licenced nor does it have qualified teaching staff. It is a parent co-operative.

Minden Nursery play was first formed in 1972 and has been successful since.

Civic will be emergency services base

Peterborough Civic Hospital has been designated as the base hospital to co-ordinate emergency health services for the counties of Haliburton, Northumberland, Peterborough and Victoria.

Municipal Affairs Minister John Eakins, MPP for Victoria - Haliburton, made the announcement on behalf of Health Minister Elinor Caplan.

A base hospital is designated by the ministry to give medical direction and leadership and to co-ordinate pre-hospital emergency health services for a specific geographical area.

Eight ambulance services in the four counties will be linked to this new base hospital program: Beaverton / Fenelon Falls, Bobcaygeon, Campbellford Memorial Hospital, Cobourg and District, Minden, Lindsay and District, Peterborough District and Rutherford's ambulance services.

The Haliburton, Kawartha and Pine Ridge District Health Council, as well as all area hospitals and ambulance services, have supported the designation of Peterborough Civic as the base hospital.

The hospital will receive an additional $17,329 from the ministry this fiscal year to enable it to fulfill its role as the base hospital. In this role, it will assist in the prompt transportation of ambulance patients to the most appropriate hospital, provide medical direction to ambulance personnel when required, review ambulance charts, gather information on community needs in regard to emergency health services and include ambulance officers in its educational activities.

"Peterborough Civic is well suited to function as the base hospital," said Eakins. "Medical, nursing and administrative staff have a proven capacity for co-ordinating emergency health care for the Peterborough area. This new program will ensure optimum use of the region's emergency health care resources, further improving the high standards of care."

Show challenges traditional Native stereotype

Native People have often been the victims of inaccurate and misleading photographic images. Historically, early documentary works by anthropologists as well as the Hollywood movie industry created pervasive and graphic stereotypes. Native people were seen as the romantic, silent, stoic, noble redmen or as bloodthirsty savages. Current media documentation continues to offer clouded images as viewers are overwhelmed with photographs of confrontational, poor or drunk people. Or, the ethnicity of the culture is promoted with images of costumed people participating in traditional lore. But always, the process has been one of the outsider looking in.

The easel arts of the 19th century gave Native People a voice for personal and tribal expression. The interest and demand for Native art, however, created a "market stereotype" whereby art created under this "ethnic umbrella" has meant that artists (who happen to be Indian) are expected to create that which is measured by its 'Indian-ness' first, its artistic merit and broader social relevance second."

This exhibition is intended to offer the general public a different understanding of Native culture, one envisioned by Native photographers. Dorothy Chocolate (Yellowknife, Northwest Territories) and Richard Hill (Sanborn, New York) seek to redefine the visual image of Native People. Working in both rural and urban contexts, their works question the preconceived ideas held by non-Natives. Their photographs present the viewer with a sensitive and accurate vision of present-day lifestyles, concerns and dreams for the future.

Among other roles in art, women have been cast as nurturers, givers of life, temptresses, and peace keepers. Using clay, wood, stone, and fibre, Jean Rutka's work is created in response to female culture and specifically the one revealed by the oral traditions of Native People. Inuit and Indian spirits, with powerful magic, reflect the struggle of northern people confronting their rugged terrain and harsh climate. Many of these spirits are female, and from these strong and fearless legendary figures, the inhabitants of the north, both human and animal were created. This lore provides a rich source of inspiration for Jean's sculpture.

To meet Jean, please attend the artist's reception on Thursday, September 15 at 7:30 p.m. in the Rails' End Gallery.

Hustlers capture championship

For the sixth year in a row, the Rockcliffe Hustlers have captured the Tri-County Fastball League championship. The title was clinched Thursday night as the Hustlers defeated Bobcaygeon 9-5 in the fourth of a best of five series.

Team coach Gene Newell credited the all-round ability of the players for the victory. "It's a matter of good hitting, good pitching and good fielding," he said simply in describing the team's march to another championship trophy.

While the game Thursday was a more wide open contest, the third game in the series proved to be more of a challenge for the team. Played in Bobcaygeon, the game went to 14 innings before the Hustlers emerged with a 6-5 win. The lead changed hands several times during the extra innings. The winning run was scored by Greg Newell who doubled to bring home Dave Dollo.

Jack Snell was on the mound for the Hustlers Wednesday and went the full 14 innings. Bobcaygeon pitcher Roger Harrison also went the distance.

Brian Shaw pitched for the Hustlers Thursday night. The team's win was assisted by a home run off the bat of Colin Newell.

Coach Gene Newell acknowledged the support of the local fans and the team sponsor during the season. "They were with us all the way," he commented, as another tri-county baseball season draws to a close.

Forests are important job sources

by Marion Streb
Federation of Ontario
Naturalists

Ontario forests provide 150,000 jobs in company head offices and in the woods, as well as products which everyone of us uses daily. But are the forests being cared for so that in 30 or 40 years there will still be jobs in the forest industry and sufficient wood supply for our needs?

For decades Ontario forestry was a cut and run operation. Prime timber was removed and the area was left to nature. Only the introduction of mechanized equipment capable of cutting great swaths through the forest forced the realization that, if cutting practices were maintained, some kind of regeneration would be necessary. It was not until the early 60's that legislation was introduced to "permit" companies to sign regeneration agreements. Since tending the seedlings was not part of the agreement, these arrangements were not a great success. The results of this attitude confront anyone fishing or canoeing along northern rivers.

In 1972 after Premier Davis vowed to plant 2 trees for every one cut, the Provincial Government approved the first targets for forest production and regeneration. In 1980 the first Forest Management Agreements (FMA's) were signed. Under the terms of the FMA's the companies were to take responsibility for regeneration, although the seedlings were to be provided through the Ministry of Natural Resources. Progress is being made. Although last year over 60% of Crown land cut over was regenerated, this still leaves a big gap.

Panel four of the Class Environmental Assessment for Timber Management on Crown Lands in Ontario which is going on right now in Thunder Bay has been focussing on the issue of regeneration. All Ministry projections for the future are based, not on present realities of inadequate and patchy regeneration, but on the optimistic view of a regeneration rate 30% higher than at present. In its calculations the MNR has failed to allow for a drop in annual growth as a consequence of acid precipitation. Even taking into account the predicted increase in regeneration, Mr. Armstrong, Provincial Forester, estimates that pulp and paper mills will run out of wood in 75 years.

In spite of this long history of silvicultural neglect and dire predictions of future shortage, the MNR has cut its budget for silvicultural programs. Seedling growers with Ministry supply contracts face cuts in quotas for 1989 which may be as high as 7,000,000. This year, after several seasons of poor yields, the growers have produced a bumper crop of seedlings, but the Ministry of Natural Resources has no budget to buy them. Although planned regeneration targets have not been met in the past, the Ministry is unable to take advantage of this chance to close the gap. Growers estimate that with next year's quota cuts the industry will fall 20-million trees behind in the reforestation goals set when the FMA's were signed.

In theory the growers can sell this year's surplus privately; in fact, the Ministry provides the only market, a subsidized one, and without the Government subsidy companies have refused to buy the surplus. Perhaps the time has come for the forest product companies to take more direct responsibility for future wood supply on the Crown land to which, under the FMA's, they have exclusive timber rights for 20 years with an option for renewal.

Forests for Tomorrow, a coalition of conservation groups in which the Federation of Ontario Naturalists plays a major role, is present at the Class E.A.

Lawn bowlers looking for home

The Minden Lawn Bowlers are looking for a new home, and if an agreement can be reached, they may find one in the curling club.

Cy Heal and Ross Spar from the Lawn Bowling Club attended last Thursday's meeting of Anson, Hindon and Minden Council to find out who should be consulted to use the building during the summer months. Reeve Sinc Nesbitt suggested that a meeting could be arranged with the lawn bowlers, the curling club executive and council members to try to work out an agreement.

This summer, as in past years, the lawn bowlers have used the former curling club, located on the fair grounds for their play. However, the game has been growing in popularity and it is getting to the point where the lawn bowlers will soon outgrow that facility. Heal also told council that if future years they hope to invite clubs from outside of town for competitions.

Reeve Nesbitt said it is ridiculous for the curling club to be empty for most of the summer when there is a group interested in using it. The facility has been available for rent, however, and Nesbitt said the lawn bowlers would be expected to pay to the curling club at least as much as the rent they would be losing.

Tree cutting
In other business at

Thursday's council meeting, a resolution was passed forbidding the cutting of trees on municipal property without authorization.

The resolution is the result of council's desire to prevent random tree cutting on the Minden Township Park, which incorporates the arena, curling club, tennis courts and fair grounds. However, the resolution applies to all municipal property.

Hello Readers! We should all be glad of this weather we are having. September birthdays at Hyland Crest are Mrs. Eastman, Annie Jones, Bill Moore, Mrs. Kirkpatrick, Harry Foy and Mary Oliver. We wish them much happiness.

The Ackerblade reunion was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Ackerblade. Among those attending were relatives from Gravenhurst, Whitby, Englehart, Minnesota, Minden, Brampton, and Minneapolis. A good time was had by all (August 27th).

The Orange Lodge Ladies of Minden served our Thursday Tea Party. It was delicious.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Jenkins were here to see Finnie and Ray played all our favourite hymns and songs. Thank you very much.

Mrs. Grace Irwin and friend and also June Johnston called on Dora Dawson last week, and this last weekend Isabel Gibbs, Pat Compo, Minnie Dawson and another lady came to see her and Annie Jones.

A bingo game was held on Friday afternoon in the Auditorium with a very good attendance. Mrs. Doris Lyle came on Tuesday to see me and brought Lois Oliver of Australia who has been a pen pal of Doris' for fifty years. She thinks Canada is just a lovely country.

Doris Robertson is back and she took a bus load of folks to Lake Kashagawamog. We are sure glad to have Doris and Linda back on the job. Mrs. Nancy Carefoot had a visit with her son from Montreal, George Hudson, and his son Terry and wife from Toronto. Nancy tells me she has 13 grandchildren and 28 great grandchildren. She is always happy to have them come to see her.

Edna Cowan had one of her sons from Parry Sound on the weekend.

Sorry to report Mrs. Shuyler is in hospital.

Mr. Fearrey and his daughter came Tuesday night to sing and play for us.

Angus Coulter has his daughter Francis Crawford from Calgary visiting him.

Au revoir.

Better to be red with exertion and toil, than moaning because you feel blue.

Housing policy announced

by John Eakins, M.P.P.

I was very pleased to announce recently a provincial draft policy statement on housing and land use during the recent Association of Municipalities of Ontario (AMO) Conference in Toronto.

The statement provides for a full range of housing types in each community, including: a minimum of 25 per cent affordable housing in new developments; municipal designation of lands for residential growth for the next ten years; and the streamlining of the planning and approvals process.

The goal of the statement, which I made with Housing Minister Chaviva Hosek, is to provide, where possible, a full range of housing choices for every resident of Ontario. Because of the current situation, too many people are unable to live close to their families, their friends and their jobs.

Comments from the public, interested groups and municipalities will be gathered over the next six months before the draft policy becomes a Policy Statement under the Planning Act.

I am optimistic that municipalities will work co-operatively with the provincial government. Our goal is to provide, where possible, a full range of housing choices for every resident of Ontario.

I would also like to mention, on an entirely different subject, that a number of award opportunities are available to the people of Victoria - Haliburton.

The Order of Ontario, Ontario's Awards for

Police and Firefighter Bravery and the Ontario Medal for Good Citizenship are ways in which the provincial government recognizes acts of bravery and other achievements.

All of these awards pay tribute to individuals who distinguish themselves in their day-to-day lives, thus making a valuable contribution to the province as a whole.

The Ontario Medal for Good Citizenship emphasizes and encourages good citizenship by recognizing individuals whose lives and actions exemplify that virtue.

Acts of superlative courage and bravery performed in the line of duty are recognized by the Ontario Medal for Firefighters Bravery and the Ontario Medal for Police Bravery.

The Order of Ontario

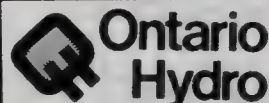

acknowledges men and women who have rendered service of the greatest distinction in any field of endeavour benefitting society.

Persons or organizations who know of an individual deserving one of these honours are invited to submit a nomination to the Ontario Honours and Awards Secretariat.

You can contact the Secretariat through the Office of Protocol, Mowat Block, 5th Floor, 900 Bay Street, Queen's Park, Toronto M7A 1C2. The telephone number is (416) 965-1215 and my constituency office is also available for your assistance.

The closing dates for nominations are as follows: September 30, 1988 for the Ontario Medal for Good Citizenship; October 31, 1988 for the Order of Ontario; and March 15, 1989 for Medals for Firefighters and Police Bravery.

POLE LINE CONSTRUCTION

Tinker, tailer, soldier...

by Virginia Muenzel

A Tinker, A Tailor, A Soldier, An Artist! That is the subject Ankaret Dean promises to bring to us at the Guild's luncheon on September 14 at the PineStone Inn. Ankaret is such a delightful lady. And the luncheon promises to be a hit. Won't you please join us at noon on the above date. There are a few tickets still available at the Gallery.

While you are planning your own personal participation in the upcoming Studio Tour, please remember that both Agnes Jamieson and the Rails' End Galleries will be open both days of the tour. Agnes Jamieson Gallery, located over the bridge on Main St. in Minden, will have a sampling of the various artisan's works. Their hours during the tour are from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. The Rails' End Gallery, which is located on York St. by the park in Haliburton, will be showing Contemporary Native photography and pottery by Jean Rutka. The Gallery will be open from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. on October 1 and from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. on October 2.

Barbara Joy Peel creates a wide range of clay and glazes as well as hand painted silk in her studio nestled in cedar grove on Skyline Park Road. (That's the road to Look-out Park over Haliburton Village). She's in the first house on the right hand side. She does dark stoneware to delicate porcelain, functional. Some crystaline glazes.

Nature's many moods have motivated Ron Murdoch to his direct approach in watercolour painting in vibrant tones or subtle shades as required. His country home is located 4.8 km from Minden across the bridge then left on Deep Bay Road for four km to Murdoch Road .8 km in.

You can visit Sharon Lynch at "The Animal Gallery" and more. Watercolours and pen and ink of four and two footed animals plus sparkling landscapes. Real slices of Haliburton life. Her studio is among the trees on the east side of Buckslide Road, four km from Hwy. 35 at Halls Lake or 25 km north of Minden.

Mimi and Ted Carson operate Handcraft Wools Ltd., a yarn and fibre shop over the bridge in Minden. They also have a small flock of sheep on their farm, which is located on County Road 1 at Lochlin. Turn off onto Church Road to the first crossroad, turn right, the farm is on the left. During the Studio Tour, they will be conducting demonstrations of wool processing, from the sorting of fleece, washing, carding, and spinning. Different dyeing techniques will be used. There will be knitting and weaving demonstrations also. Mimi and Ted will be assisted by Dorothy Jean Connors, Shirley Hodgson, Hilda Sealey, and Ted Walper.

Hildegard Sargeant is your hostess and folk artist at "Country Treasures." Discover a fine selection of traditional impressionistic folk art painted on wooden and metal treasures. She is located on the east side, 2.5 km north of Gelert on County Road 1.

At "Roosterview Creations", with Doreen Berry and Guest, you will find beautiful, unique and colourful stained glass lamps, windows, jewel boxes and suncatchers coupled with finely crafted pine creations. They are located on the left artery of Coxfarm Road 1.6 km from Hwy. 121 East, 3.5 km northeast of Minden.

Helen Newton creates "Seasons in Silk", beautiful handpainted silk scarves and blouses, bows, and earrings, batik wall hangings on pure silk and silk-screened wearing apparel. The studio is located on County Road 18 (South Kashagawigamog Road) 1.6 km east of Hwy. 121 east, second driveway east of the bridge.

Ellen James creates unique leather designs from belts and bags to stuffed animals and clothes. She is located in the old Blairhampton United Church, on the corners of Blairhampton and Soyers Lake Roads, 16 km west of Haliburton, or 16.5 km north of Minden off Hwy. 121 east.

There are still several artisans listed in the brochure. Leo will cover them in the next couple of weeks. As you can see there is a marvelous variety of media to be seen. And the artists are rather evenly distributed between Minden and Haliburton areas. What a great way to spend the first two days in October. Hope to see you on the tour.

A respectable ditch

So it may not have the bombastic glamour of the Panama Canal or the place in history of the Suez Canal but the Trent-Severn Waterway was built for somewhat similar reasons and the role that it plays in the historical mosaic of Canada is not without note.

It cost over $24-million to construct and took more than 90 years to build. As author James T. Angus reports, it "contains some remarkable engineering feats as well as a few spectacular mistakes". But then, it was a government project built at a time when the country could hardly afford it and only a handful of people actually wanted it.

We should be fair: this was regarded as a project which would possibly play a major role should the Americans invade from the South. It was interpreted as forming part of the debate regarding free trade and protectionism, freight rates, energy production and those old standards "federal - provincial relationships".

In short, A Respectable Ditch is about politics and the people who pushed, pulled, prodded and progressed.

It's available through any branch of the Haliburton County Public Library ... and it is sure to be a "good read".
